WARDING'S MIND OPEN ON FINANCING BONUS BILL.

Presses on Leaders That Any Plan Must Provide Necessary Funds Without Delay.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—President Harding is keeping his mind on the question of the most feasible means of saving the soldiers' bonus legislation, provision for which is passed at this session of Congress.

Whether the funds will be provided by the sale of bonds, or by levy of a sales tax or by some other means, are questions which cannot be settled at this time, in the opinion of the President, and they must await consideration later in connection with the framing of the bonus bill.

POINDEXTER ARRESTED?

William Poinexter, aged 36 years, who declares, according to the police, that he is a nephew of Senator Poinexter, was locked up in the City Jail late last night on suspicion of having issued several fictitious checks. The arrest was made at Sunset Boulevard and Beaudry avenue by Detectives Shy and Cline.

The detective charge that Poinexter made out five eight drafts totaling $110 on the "Sunrise Valley Bank in Cedarville, Cal., without having sufficient funds in the bank to cover the amount. One of the checks, made as payment, the detective say, to the Lewis Gunther Grocery Company at 1848 Sunset Boulevard, was returned dishonored by the bank.

"Yes, I am the nephew of Senator Poinexter, and I cannot understand why my uncle has taken up the checks; he always has done so," Poinexter remarked when taken to Central Police Station late last night.

AGED WOMAN HURT WHEN AUTO HITS STREET CAR

Mrs. Elizabeth Hood, aged 60 years, of 211 Edgemoor Drive, was seriously injured last night when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a Los Angeles street car at the intersection of West Sixth and Lake streets. At the Receiving Hospital it was said she suffered compound fracture and internal injuries.

Mrs. Hood's daughter, Miss Jeanie E. Hood, who was driving the automobile, was badly shaken, but not seriously injured. She reported to the police that, as the street car approached the center of the intersection, she attempted to bring the automobile to a stop, but failed when the brakes of the car slipped.

OPPOSE FARMER ON BOARD.

Federal Reserve Advisory Council Protests Against Law to Compel Appointment.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Declaring that a grave situation has developed which menaces the future of the entire country, the advisory council of the Federal Reserve system presented a memorial to President Harding today protesting against legislation which would make mandatory the appointment of a "dirt" farmer as member of the Federal Reserve Board.

President Harding signified that he approved their contention that such a measure would be objectionable class legislation, and would lead to the injection of politics in the field of finance.

APPROVED ORIGINAL BILL.

The advisory council gave approval to the bill as reported by the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency. That merely provides that in selecting the members of the Federal Reserve Board, the President should have due regard to a "fair representation of the different commercial, industrial, agricultural and financial divisions." Opposition was expressed to the amendment by Senator Smith of South Carolina, which would in effect require the President to name a farmer when the term of Governor W. P. G. Harding expires in August.

FARMERS STAND PAT.

Members of the agricultural bloc said later in the day that they proposed to insist on legislation insuring agriculture representation on the Federal Reserve Board. They indicated that they would accept a compromise to enlarge the membership making the number of agricultural members six instead of five, but indicated unwillingness to give up their demand for a mandatory provision for the appointment of a farmer.

The advisory council of the Federal Reserve system in its memorial to the President approved the principle of the joint commission of agricultural inquiry for the extension of the powers of the Federal land banks so as to permit them to discount agricultural or livestock paper with maturities running from six months to three years, and to permit them to receive deposits from Federal Reserve banks when its maturity falls below six months and when it conforms to the requirements of

TEMPORARY MORATORIUM TO BE GRANTED GERMANY

Allies at Cannes Agree to Reduce Payments Until New Decision Can be Arrived at.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Three important developments emerged today from the confusion into which the resignation of Aristide Briand, the French Premier, threw the Cannes negotiations. These were, first, that a ministry headed by Raymond Poincaré will take the place of the Briand administration; second, that the Genoa economic conference appears to have been saved out of the wreckage, and, third, that the reparations commission, acting under the discretion it possesses by virtue of the Versailles Treaty, has granted Germany a moratorium until the Allies arrive at a new decision with regard to her condition.

Germany, instead of paying the 500,000,000 gold marks due next Sunday, is to pay every ten days approximately 21,000,000 gold marks, which latter amount is considered as representing 25 per cent of her exports.

SAVING OF TREATY.

Whether the Anglo-French pact arranged between Briand and Lloyd George also can be saved, is considered to depend upon a conference between Lloyd George and M. Poincaré. The latter always has been solid for the Versailles Treaty, and inasmuch as France is known to desire a pact to replace the tripartite convention, including the United States, which was contemplated in the original agreement, Poincaré like Briand, will have to count with the extreme nationalist party. Poincaré is believed to have accepted the stipulations Lloyd George proposes as necessary to conclude the pact.

For these reasons it is considered that a settlement of this controversy may make it easier to go ahead with other troublesome problems of the Far East.

It is the expectation in conference circles that during the next few days and probably until a decision is reached, the Shantung negotiations will have right of way over discussion of other Far Eastern subjects.

ALL TAKE HAND.

So far the Shantung exchanges have been between the Japanese and Chinese alone, with American and British observers present, but the next phase is expected to concentrate upon the problem of friendly interest of all the governments represented here.

The Japanese and Chinese have been reaching an agreement on the entire Kiao Chow leased territory to foreign trade and tomorrow will take up others of the colonial questions involved in restoration of the leasehold to China. Their sessions, expected to last all day, are the only item in the naval negotiations only a few perfunctory details remain to be arranged. An agreement has been reached regarding methods of scrapping under which discarded battleships may be converted in some cases into airplanes carriers and training ships and a final settlement relating to Pacific fortifications awaits a reply expected hourly from Tokyo.

TRADE PUT ON OPEN SHOP BASIS.

Chicago Citizens' Committee Tires of Dickering With Union.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—One more trade has been placed on an open shop basis, it was announced today by the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award. Journeymen others voted last night to hold for a wage rate of $1.25 an hour, irrespective of the rate prescribed by Judge Landis.

This union has been afforded unusual opportunities to come under the award, said the committee statement. "The committee has held off action, pending Thursday's meeting, at the request of the plastering and lathing contractors, who felt that the local might yield to the advice of its international officers. These officers urged strongly that the Landis agreement be lived up to. The union, however, refused."

The citizens' committee has a large number of men among the Landis award carpenters who are willing to do lathing under the terms and wages prescribed by Judge Landis. These men will be used to complete Chicago lathing jobs.

This is the ninth trade which the committee is operating on an open-shop basis. The others are the carpenter, sheet metal, composition roofing, slate and tile roofing, hoisting engineers, furniture hanging and plumbing.

He said the reductions would be in small amounts because production already was close to "rock bottom."

NEW EVIDENCE FOUND IN BAFFLING MYSTERY; CELLAR BLOODSTAINS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

TACOMA, Jan. 13.—A bloodstained hatchet, discovered by city detectives today in the basement of the Rutherford home here, strengthened the belief of the police that Mrs. Sarah Rutherford met her death there three months ago at the hand of a murderer as yet unknown and four days before her husband, John Rutherford, disappeared.

Stains believed to be those of blood were found beneath a pile of boards in the basement, and the removal of several cords of firewood disclosed a fresh patch of concrete. This concrete, police said tonight, would be torn out in the belief that a portion of the woman's remains may be hidden behind it.

With these new discoveries, interest increased in the pending report from the University of Washington on the charred bones found in a stove in the Rutherford home by Mrs. L. E. Reeves, who, with her husband, has been occupying the home since Rutherford, the owner, left suddenly without leaving a trace. If the university reports that the bones are those of a human being, as a number of Tacoma physicians have declared them to be, the police announced tonight that they would consider it certain that a crime has been committed.

What may be found tomorrow behind the new patch of concrete running from floor to ceiling and about four feet in width also may definitely explain the disappearance of the woman. In the meantime the search for Rutherford continues unabated.

Mrs. Rutherford, the police learned today, was formerly a resident of Detroit and Grand Rapids, Mich., having married Rutherford in Detroit and coming here from that city in 1918. Her husband, who was known as Mrs. Sarah Gallagher, Rutherford, being his second husband, the police say.

Fresno Liquor Raid Results in Many Arrests.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

FRESNO, Jan. 14.—A series of liquor raids here late last night and early this morning, conducted by State Prohibition Director E. Purcell, resulted in the arrest of several men, aided by local authorities, resulted in the arrest of Department of Internal Revenue officers charged with violating the national prohibition law. Three automobiles and approximately $1000 worth of liquor also were seized.

Spratt, according to the Federal officers, is specifically charged with aiding and abetting violations of the prohibition law and maintaining a public nuisance.

The raiding of two hotels, the Palace and the Annex, and several residences followed a week's investigation by the Federal officers. The others under arrest are George Hanks, Mr. Mason and ten. L. A. Cranston, Clarence Zhindens, Ray Raymond, and ten secret service men, aided by local authorities, resulted in the arrest of Department of Internal Revenue officers charged with violating the national prohibition law. Three automobiles and approximately $1000 worth of liquor also were seized.

SEEK JOHNSON'S BLIZZARD.

Senator Declares Storm Which Cannot Be Located Prevented Vote in Newberry Case.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Johnson of California arrived in the capital today, following a visit of several weeks to his home in San Francisco twenty-four hours too late to record his vote in the Newberry case. Johnson, who was one of the three Senators whose votes were not recorded, declared that he had made every effort to get here yesterday, but that he had been delayed by the "blizzard in the Middle West."

Sensor Johnson refused to state how he would have voted in the Newberry case had he succeeded in getting here, but issued a homastic statement in opposition to the four-power Pacific treaty.

NEWS TO WEATHER MEN.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Senator Johnson's statement that his absence from his seat in the United States Senate Thursday when the Newberry case was voted upon was due to a blizzard in the West is not borne out by the Weather Bureau reports, or by the officials of the various transcontinental railroads.

The chief dispatcher's office of the Santa Fe said tonight that their eastbound Pacific Coast trains had been running on schedule practically all winter. They have suffered no recent delays.

FORD PLANS PRESENTED.

Congress to Get Dry Law Success or Failure.

Sale of Alabama Plant to Fliever Maker Talked Over in Capital.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Henry Ford's offer for purchase and lease of the government's nitrate and waterpower projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., will be referred to Congress for final decision, it was announced today at the conclusion of conferences between government officials and Mr. Ford.

Accompanying the Ford proposal when it is transmitted, Secretary Weeks said, probably would be the two offers received from Frederick Eastman of Wilmington, N. C., and C. G. Bunker of San Francisco.

The decision to forward the three offers to the legislative branch of the government, it was stated, was reached after consideration of the question by executive officials last night more than six months. It was said the department officers lacked authority to take final action and were compelled to refer the offer to Congress.

TO DRAFT CONTRACT.

Actual transmission of the proposals was not expected for at least two weeks, it was stated, that the Ford proposal first would be drafted in contract form by law officers of the War Department, and be submitted to Mr. Ford for his signature before it was sent to Congress.

While the legal departments are working on the contract form, it was stated, Secretary Weeks would prepare a report for Congress containing comments for further information.

"What my comments are," the Secretary said, "will appear when I send the offer to Congress, which will be as soon as the papers are prepared."

Some officials said they believed it would require a week to prepare the contract and probably another week or more to obtain the signature of Mr. Ford. The contract will be sent to Mr. Ford when it is drafted.

Secretary Weeks said tonight he was disappointed in that Mr. Ford declined to agree to certain modifications of his plans which were held desirable by his conference. One of these was known to be that affecting the reduction of the 100-year lease period. The principal modification agreed to by Mr. Ford was that the government would pay annually a fee of 4 per cent interest on the cost of construction of dams Numbers 2 and 3, regarding local industry.

LIED CLAMPED TIGHT.

The State prohibition department admits that the scarcity of good liquor is not due to the breaking up of former whiskey running from Pennsylvania and Kentucky, so much as to the closing down of the 14 on bonded warehouses by Federal authorities. Don T. Parkman, State prohibition commissioner, asserts that the traffic in grain alcohol will be similarly controlled in sixty days, adding that after the Federal State, county and city officers can devote nearly all of their time to the eradication of local distillation.

MANY ARRESTS IN OHIO.

Ohio happens to be the State in which the Federal officers made the highest number of arrests in the fiscal year 1921. The total was 2334—more than in New York, it would seem that for a new department the Ohio State organization, enforcing the State law, made a comparatively good showing.

The correspondent in Harrisburg, Pa., wires that Ray McNamara, Federal prohibition agent, contends that the district is fairly well cleared of bootleggers and the liquor traffic is low, but the correspondent also makes note of the following:

"Having but a small force of agents, the State prohibition headquarters has been badly handicapped in this section. The illicit whiskey traffic, with the result that corn whiskey and the product of the still is being bought in this city and surrounding towns for $2.50 a quart. Steelton, a neighboring town, the population of which is mostly foreign, had 543 arrests in 1921, compared to 133 in 1920, and nearly three-quarters of them were for misdemeanors committed by the defendant was under the influence of liquor."

In San Francisco the total of arrests for drunkenness increased greatly in the last year, it may be

PLEA IS MADE FOR EDUCATORS

Sabbatic Leave Important, Says Professor

Obligation Colleges Owe to Selves, Claim

Provision Should be Made for Vacation

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The question of sabbatic leave for college professors is of great importance to the college world and one which should rank with the question of salary, pension and other matters which have to do with the education of our youth. Prof. O. H. Randall, of the University of Wisconsin, is the author of a paper on "Sabbatic Leave for College Professors," which is being presented at the annual meeting of the American Association of University Professors, held here today.

Many institutions regard the practice of granting the sabbatic leave as a privilege, rather than as an obligation. Prof. Randall, however, maintains that it is an obligation of the college to provide for the sabbatic leave of its professors. He claims that the college owes it to itself and to the student to provide for the sabbatic leave of its professors. He claims that the college owes it to itself and to the student to provide for the sabbatic leave of its professors.

"SPECIAL FUND NEEDED." "Others suggested that the college should do well to set aside special funds for the purpose of financing a plan of sabbatic leave under generous conditions in the college way," said Prof. Randall, "as an obligation of the college to its professors and to the student. As a result of a questionnaire sent out by one of the New England colleges, he said that he regarded the granting of sabbatic leave as about as good an investment as colleges could make."

"The majority of the colleges report that they are already providing for sabbatic leave of their professors. It is a common opinion that the college for the sake of its intellectual policy should adopt some plan of sabbatic leave for its professors. The plan should be such that it would make it possible for each professor to have at least eight months of study and research in his own field. The plan should be such that it would make it possible for each professor to have at least eight months of study and research in his own field. BILLION DECREASE IN TRADE BALANCE

REPORTS AND IMPORTS FAR BELOW TOTALS FOR PREVIOUS YEARS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A decrease of nearly $1,000,000,000 in the Federal trade balance of the United States during 1931 is indicated in the foreign trade statistics for December, issued today by the Commerce Department.

Exports decreased in value in 1931 by $745,000,000, and imports by $1,745,000,000, the report said. The material decline in exports is the result of the reduction in prices of commodities which made up the bulk of the country's foreign trade.

The lower value of imports and exports in 1931, as compared with 1930 and previous years, is the result of the depression in the volume of trade, but it is a good sign, it is said, that the country is getting back on its feet.

The disease is rare in this country, but it is common in Europe. The family is from a small town in the middle of the State, and the disease is said to have been contracted by the family while they were in Europe. The family is now in the hospital, and the doctors are doing everything possible to save the lives of the five children.

BURCH JURORS LOCKED UP AFTER FAILING TO AGREE

Women Reported Holding Out for Accused Man; Mrs. Graham
Said to be Foreman.

The ten women and two men who were unable after being out six hours last night to agree on a verdict in the Arthur C. Burch murder case were taken to a hotel at 10 p.m. and locked up for the night. Judge Reeve, before whom the eight-week trial was held, instructed Bailiff Reeder to have the jury back in court by 9 a.m. today.

Although the jurors appeared serious when they filed down the stairs of the Hall of Justice on the way to their hotel, they immediately began to chat among themselves when they boarded the large hotel omnibus and seemed to be on the most friendly terms. Mrs. Nellie D. Graham of Alhambra was reported to have been chosen foreman of the jury.

When the jurors went to dinner after deliberating two hours, it was reported about the Hall of Justice that two women were holding out. When the jury left the courtroom last night, two other women jurors walked with the two originally reported as being pro-Burch.

Burch, who is awaiting a verdict as to whether he is insane, innocent or guilty of murdering J. Belmont Kennedy in Beverly Glen last August 5, was called into the courtroom at 9:45 p.m., while Chief Defense Counsel Paul W. Schenck and Dep. Dist. Atty. Hill stipulated that the jury should retire for the night.

Burch, not knowing whether or not a verdict had been reached, entered the courtroom rapidly, chewing gum vigorously. He bowed and smiled to some acquaintances and then sat at the counsel table. The stipulation was made. Burch was taken back to the County Jail. Judge Reeve ordered the courtroom cleared.

Dep. Sheriff Nolan and Bailiff Reeder kept back the crowds on the sidewalk when the jury filed out to the omnibus.

While awaiting the verdict in the County Jail Burch requested the privilege of talking for a few moments with Madeline Owen, his wife, who is in custody. The request was denied, however. Burch has been forbidden for many weeks to talk with her in the jail.

During the hours of waiting in the courtroom a large crowd talked loudly, smoked many cigarettes and cigars, told many jokes and occasionally someone would break out in song. Several of the attorneys were present. Rev. William A. Burch, father of the accused, and J. D. Kennedy, father of the slain youth, were also present.

That several of the jurors expected a long session at their deliberations was indicated by the fact that Mrs. Swetland and Miss Oliver Moser brought suit cases with them yesterday morning, apparently making arrangements to remain over night.

Mrs. Belle Harris, the thirteenth juror, who was discharged before the twelve regular jurors left the courtroom, said she had not fully made up her mind as to the guilt or innocence of Burch. She declared she was waiting until she went to the jury-room, if called upon to serve because of the illness of one of the twelve, before making a final decision.

In such a case it is the interpretation to be inferred that the prosecution has not proved its case beyond a reasonable doubt to you," she was asked.

"No, I would not say that," she replied. She declined to give any opinion as to whether she believed Burch insane as contended by his attorneys.

INSTRUCTIONS READ. Judge Reeve read his instructions to the jury for thirty minutes after Dist. Atty. Woolwine, closing for the prosecution, made a heated appeal to hang Burch.

In the judge's instructions there was no mention made of manslaughter. He dwelt at length on the definitions of first-degree murder and stated that if the jury was convinced the murder was deliberate and there were no extenuating circumstances, then a simple verdict of first-degree murder should be returned. The law in such a case prescribed the penalty as death. Should extenuating circumstances be found, however, a verdict of first-degree with a recommendation for life imprisonment should be returned.

The other two verdicts mentioned were acquittal and acquittal by reason of insanity. In the latter case it was explained the insanity as described by law means that the defendant was of such mental state he could not recognize the difference between right and wrong in reference to the act and did not realize the nature and consequences of it.

At the close of the instructions, the judge instructed Clerk Ross to swear in Bailiff Reeder. The bailiff then took charge of the jury and ten women and two men retired up the stairs leading to the jury-room at 3:55 p.m.

A rush of newspaper men was made for Mrs. Harris, the thirteenth juror who was not called upon to take a place on the regular jury. She at first declined to make any statement, but later made the remarks quoted above.

BURCH ATTENTIVE. Burch, the dapper little defendant who has sat grinning at times, smiling, sometimes serious, but more frequently laughing, listened with attention to Judge Reeve's instructions.

After the jury left the room, he was hustled away to the County Jail, there to await the summons that would bring him back to the court to hear his fate.

Mr. Woolwine closed his argument with a dramatic plea for the jury. "Spare a life to your jury-room and render a just verdict," he said.

FIGUEROA PROPERTY IS LEASED.

Santa Fe Springs Men to Improve Frontage Between Tenth, Eleventh.

The consummation of a ninety-nine-year lease on South Figueroa street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, at a total consideration of approximately $150,000, was announced yesterday by H. L. Suddam, local realtor, through whom the transaction was handled. The property is L-shaped, with forty-eight feet of frontage on Figueroa, and a depth of 335 feet, and with forty feet of frontage on Tenth street.

The property was leased to Alfonso E. Bell and Lem A. Brunson, of Santa Fe Springs. The United Improvement Company is the owner. At the present time the Figueroa-street frontage is occupied by the old Coulter residence, while the Tenth street frontage is occupied by a flat building.

Improvements are to be made in the near future, according to the agents, but the nature of these improvements has not been fully determined by the new owners, who will take possession about March 1.

George A. Benford of the Suddam company represented both parties in the transaction.

NEED MORE FOR HOME VISITATION

To Extend Work Outside of City Limits; Pastors to Ask Young People's Aid.

The first call made by the leaders in the Los Angeles Home Visitation was for 5000 volunteers. More than 2500 have responded, and all are needed, since the local leaders did not realize how congested some of the districts were.

Calls were sent out by Mayor Croyer as general chairman to urge all pastors to get more volunteers at their services on Sunday. It is expected that at least 3000 additional workers may be obtained so that the work may be completed in less than the two hours first planned for it.

Those in charge hope to have a sufficient number of workers to go into the city limits. All volunteers in the Hollywood district will go to the Hollywood High School, Monday night, for instructions, where J. Shivers Durham, international superintendent home visitation, Chicago, who has charge of the work in Los Angeles, will address them. All these from other sections of the city will meet on Thursday night in the Bible Institute auditorium, 540 South Hope street, where Mr. Durham will speak.

During the year Judge Chesbro tried 1534 persons charged with intoxication. During 1920, only 1087 appeared in Judge Chesbro's court on that charge.

ATTORNEY CUTS BOND "STRING."

City's Adviser Shows Limit of Hellman Clause.

Says Banker Can't Control
Till Securities Sold.

Council's Debasing Attitude
Proved Unnecessary.

City Attorney Stephens, in an opinion sent to the City Council yesterday, holds that the so-called "string" clause in the agreement under which Irving H. Hellman bought at a secret sale $13,500,000 of city electric power bonds at a discount of $1,535,000, does not prohibit the municipality from selling other securities except for a period of sixty days after the power bonds have been delivered to Mr. Hellman.

Despite the objections of Councilmen Muesel and Allan, the majority members of the City Council have taken the position that the so-called "string" clause made Mr. Hellman the dictator of the city's bond sales from August 2, when he bought the power bonds and under this interpretation, the Council has asked and received from Mr. Hellman three releases or waivers of the "string" clause since he bought the power bonds.

The first two were for blocks of harbor improvement bonds, one for $1,200,000 and the other for $1,500,000. The third release was for $500,000 of library bonds and when it was received Councilman Muesel offered a resolution which was seconded by Councilman Allan and unanimously adopted, asking the City Attorney for a ruling as to whether it was necessary for the city to ask Mr. Hellman for these bond releases.

The electric power bonds are in litigation, those bringing suit contending that the Hellman sale was illegal, and it may be months or years before a final ruling is given. If this declares the sale illegal, then the entire Hellman transaction will be set aside and the Council will be in a position to advertise for bids for the $13,500,000 of power bonds, which, if done, it is predicted, will bring to the city $1,535,000, instead of the discount of $1,535,000 for which Mr. Hellman purchased the securities at the Council's private sale.

Councilmen Muesel and Allan declared that in view of the fact that while the Hellman sale case is pending in the courts the city would have occasion to sell the $1,500,000 remaining Public Library bonds and other securities, the Council should know definitely whether it was necessary to secure release from Mr. Hellman each time bonds were to be sold. City Attorney Stephens ruled that it is not necessary to secure these releases, and that the city is only bound under the "string" clause not to sell any bonds during the sixty days beginning with the date of the actual delivery of the electric power bonds to Mr. Hellman.

Bull Montana, the motion-picture player and wrestler, who before he took the acid bath of American citizenship was known as Luigi Montanya, applied for a passport at the office of the clerk of the U. S. District Court yesterday to enable him to go to his old home land, Italy.

Bull said: "My old parents live in the vicinity of Milan, and I am going back to show them a good time and tell the boys I used to know over there what it is to be an American citizen. I will sail from New York in May, as I have two more pictures to make, and expect to spend a part of the summer at my old haunts. I am sure going to show the old folks a good time," said Bull, grinning from ear to ear.

Fiance Departed After He Gets Widow's Money, She Testifies at His Trial.

"After that he kissed me good-by and that's the last I saw of him," said Mrs. Deana Hunley, a widow, yesterday, in telling of her meeting Walter Hornbuckle, alias Stanley, of his rapid-fire courtship and of the charges of grand larceny against him.

Justice Tolsted, before whom Hornbuckle and C. A. McQueen are being given a hearing on the charge of obtaining $150 from Mrs. Hunley through an assumed name, continued the case until Wednesday.

Mrs. Hunley testified that she met Hornbuckle, or Stanley, as he called himself, in a cafeteria. She stated that he said he was a widower and lonely. She admitted she was a widow and lonely, too. Three minutes later, in Pershing Square, he proposed marriage to her, she stated.

This was on November 15, and on December 5, she accepted him; she testified. The witness stated that arrangements were made for the marriage, but that McQueen came into her hotel room, where Hornbuckle was, and said he was an officer. She testified that McQueen demanded $500 from her, but she gave him $150, and the other man $150. The next day, she said, Hornbuckle obtained $50 more from her, and kissing her good-by, left.

Dr. Aitchison is here to attend a special session of the Southern California Baptist convention, representing 100 churches, to be held next Monday at the First Baptist Church. Francis, who will preach tomorrow morning, will leave Los Angeles January 20 for Columbia, Mo., to attend an important conference of northern and southern Baptist leaders.

SMALLEST STILL FOUND AT PORT.
Pocket Distillery Weighing Less Than Half-Pound is Seized at Harbor.
A taste for real whisky plus a rare mechanical ability are blamed for the arrest yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor of Angelo Marcello and the confiscation of the smallest still the authorities have ever seen, read about or heard of. It may be carried in the overcoat pocket, and yet is capable of making sour-mash "licker" to an archaic Kentucky taste.
Patrolman J. J. Vignone brought Angelo Marcello and the still to the harbor police station, having found them at 133 Keel street. The whisky-making contrivance weighs less than a half-pound. It is composed thus: The boiler is made from a hard pan on which has been soldered the top of an oil can. A small rubber tube leads from the boiler to the spout of the vapor from the steaming mash is carried through a small rubber tube into the coal. The coil is made of tiny copper tubing, set in a tomato can.
The still is capable of making at one cooking on any stove enough whisky to fill a pocket flask and the police have named it the one-swig distillery.

SHOT TO SHIELD
WIFE FROM MAN?
Three Assaults Made, Spouse Testifies at Trial.
Intruder Killed at Fourth Visit, He Insists.
Police Say Bannan Stories Show Two Versions.
Whether James H. Brigham, who was killed at Sawtelle on September 10, last, forced his way into the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bannan three times and assaulted her and a fourth time tried to enter the home was a question raised yesterday in Judge Sherk's court at the trial of Mrs. Bannan and her husband, Edward Bannan, accused of the murder of Brigham.
In the presentation of defense testimony by O. N. Hilton and Dan W. Critchley, defense attorneys, Mr. and Mrs. Bannan disclosed what they described as a tragic situation that entered their lives, when they asserted, Mr. Brigham forced his attentions upon Mrs. Bannan. Mrs. Bannan herself testified along the same lines as her husband, who yesterday completed his testimony under cross-examination by Dep. Dist. Atty. McCartney and Turney.
Bannan repeated his account of the shooting. He stated that, he and Mrs. Bannan were driving home, when he stopped at Tenth street and Santa Monica Boulevard, Sawtelle, to visit an automobile recovery shop. He said he and his wife left their automobile and started to return to the shop. They saw Mr. and Mrs. Brigham, they said, and that Mr. Brigham opened fire on them. He stated at this time that the first time he saw the third revolver in the case, the ownership of which was disputed, it was in the hands of Mrs. Brigham.
Lieut. Slater of Central Station and Patrolman Box testified that on the night of Bannan's arrest, he told them a different account of the shooting than that given in testimony under cross-examination. He said, he met Brigham in a doorway, that Brigham fired on Mrs. Bannan and he returned the fire. The trial was continued by Judge Sherk until Monday, the defense having rested its case. The case will be argued and go to the jury on Monday, it was believed.

RULING GIVEN ON BOND PACT.
The opinion, which completely sustains the position taken by Councilmen Mushet and Allan, is in full as follows:
Jan. 13, 1922
Hon. City Council of the City of Los Angeles.
Pursuant to your request of the 5th inst., I have given very careful consideration to the paragraph in the offer of Mr. Irving H. Hallman in the offer of the $11,000 power bonds which was included as a condition in your resolution making the sale of such bonds, and which reads:
"It is further understood and agreed that no more bonds of the city of Los Angeles will be sold for a period of sixty days from the date of delivery of the definitive bonds of this issue, we agreeing, however, to release the city of Los Angeles from this provision if the sale of all of the above bonds are sold, in any event."
It is a well-accepted rule of interpretation of contracts that words are to be understood in their ordinary and popular sense, unless a specific meaning is given to them by usage, or unless it is clear that the parties used them in some technical sense. Having this rule in mind, I have made inquiry among banking circles and other sources and find that the expression used in the above paragraph has acquired any specific meaning by usage among the bankers and other persons dealing in bonds. I therefore conclude that the words must be interpreted with their ordinary and generally accepted meaning.
I am aware that Mr. Hallman and his associates contend that as the purchases it was their understanding that the expression used meant that no bonds would be offered for sale by the city of Los Angeles from the time of the making of the contract until sixty days after delivery of the bonds. The action of your honorable body in seeking from Mr. Hallman a release from this provision in two specific instances in the sale of bonds might also be considered as some indication that your honorable body intended to release the city from the contract until sixty days after delivery of the bonds. The action of your honorable body in seeking from Mr. Hallman a release from this provision in two specific instances in the sale of bonds might also be considered as some indication that your honorable body intended to release the city from the contract until sixty days after delivery of the bonds.

TRIAL RECALLS
FRONTIER DAYS.
Firebug is Convicted Where Blaze Was Started.
Mountaineers Gather to Help the Accused.
Judge and Deputies Invade Malibu District.
Recalling the early days of the West, when court was held where the crimes were committed, John Mundell, a mountaineer, was convicted of violation of the State fire laws at a court session held in the lonely recesses of the Malibu, according to word brought here yesterday by County Forester Flintham, who attended the trial. Judge, lawyers and witnesses journeyed all day to attend the trial, which was held Thursday at Yerba Buena, in Ventura county. Mundell was arrested some time ago on warrants issued in Ventura, and Justice C. J. Elliott of Oxnard went into the mountains to try the case. Gathered at the trial were mostly the mountaineers, many of whom have not been near a city for years.
The trial lasted all day Thursday and after nearly every resident of the district had testified, Justice Elliott fined the prisoner $50, and sentenced him to fifteen days in jail. The latter sentence was later suspended and probation for a year granted.
The scene as described by Mr. Flintham was one of the most unusual in the history of Southern California courts. People who had been enemies for years joined hands in opposing the law, and testified in behalf of Mundell. But in spite of the united efforts of the district attorneys, the judge and the jury, the man was convicted.

NEW APPEAL FOR WRIT OF REVIEW
IN PEELE CASE.
Undaunted by two Federal court denials of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Mrs. Lodge Louise Peele, now serving a life sentence in San Quentin for the murder of Jacob Charles Denton, her attorney yesterday started similar action in the State Supreme Court.
Attorney Dennis B. Chapin six weeks ago was denied a writ by the State Supreme Court, but he immediately started similar action in the State Supreme Court. Chapin asked the State Supreme Court to grant a writ of habeas corpus and to remand Mrs. Peele to the custody of the Los Angeles county Sheriff under the original indictment, and for a writ of review of the trial proceedings on the ground that the use of a thirteenth or alternate juror as provided for in Section 1939 of the California Penal Code was unconstitutional. The contention made by Mr. Chapin is that the law is discriminatory since it is in no way mandatory, but permits a judge the discretionary power of impeding one or two alternate jurors in felony cases.
MORE DEATHS IN YEAR.
The annual report of Henry Bief, deputy registrar of vital statistics, shows that there were 12,645 deaths in Los Angeles last year, compared with 11,662 in 1920.

"Angels are not very familiar to the average man of this century. We've swept them bright, beings from our air with the rough broom of materialism. That layer of plaster you put over Buttonlath is "buttoned" to the wall for keeps. Because the plaster, while soft, slips under the little knobs, or buttons, and then hardens in a vice-like grip.
The durability is intensified by the fact that these buttons are made of a material for which plaster has a natural chemical affinity. They become virtually one substance—united as long as the wall itself stands.

MAYOR DEMANDS PORT CLEAN-UP.

Startles Harbor Board by Personal Talk.

Survey of Personnel Asked to Show Work Done.

More Co-operation With City Executive Ordered.

"I do not care a straw whether or not I ever see the public office again," declared Mayor Cress yesterday in a fiery talk he made to the Board of Harbor Commissioners, when he appeared before the board and demanded that it get down to business and make a survey of the personnel and the work each man in the Harbor Department was doing. The Mayor declared that he was not a "playing politician" in harbor or any other city matters. The Mayor declared that the people held him jointly responsible with the board for a strictly business-like, efficient administration of the harbor, and said that the commissioners had not consulted with him or told him of what they were doing.

The commissioners agreed to consult with the Mayor, and ordered Harbor Engineer Vincent to make an immediate report on the existing equipment at the harbor and of the work the employees were actually doing.

SUPPLEMENTED REPORT.

This will supplement a financial survey now being made by John G. Hef, an expert accountant, who was put to work on the harbor records by the previous board.

The Mayor's appearance at the meeting was the outcome of the case of Walter H. Mitchell, an appointed book-keeper at the Harbor Department, who was appointed to the Board of Civil Service Commissioners for reinstatement. In his testimony before the previous Harbor Board and to the Civil Service Commissioners, Mr. Mitchell, who was charged by the Harbor Board with dismissed him, with being incompetent and inefficient, declared that the harbor records were in a state of chaos and that inefficiency and lack of co-operation existed in the Harbor Department.

FACTS ARE SOUGHT.

"Let's get the facts," said Commissioner Kibbe after Mr. Mitchell had appeared before the board yesterday and after Mayor Cress had made his statement. "If there is anything to be done in the Harbor Department, we must do it, and use plenty of strong soap and water. Mr. Mitchell has made charges against the entire Harbor Department staff, in the members of which I have faith until facts showing these charges are true, have been produced. Let's go to the bottom of this entire matter."

Commissioner Kibbe, who was appointed as a committee of one to confer with the Board of Civil Service Commissioners relative to Mr. Mitchell's case.

President McKee issued a statement yesterday afternoon in which he said: "The necessity of a survey of actual present and past physical conditions of the operating end of the harbor department has been my contention since the first day I took office on the board. The survey, as well as the creation of the position of statistician to the board to make it, is of the utmost public necessity. The records show and I want the public to know that I have done my best to bring this about."

When Violet De Lange, who received the commission of major in the British Army during the great war, asked her husband, Fred H. Butte, about a former wife, she said she admitted having been married before, but added: "I was afraid if I told you that you would not marry me."

She asked him to make her marriage right by getting a divorce and re-marrying her, but he told her, she testified: "It is too much to pay to get rid of a woman."

She married him at Flagstaff, Ariz., Oct. 23, 1926. In August, 1931, she learned that he had another wife from whom he was not legally free. She learned this through a hint his sister threw out, she told Judge Summerfield in an affidavit proceedings yesterday.

The sister of Mr. Butte testified she knew her brother's first wife and had seen the marriage license Judge Summerfield granted the annulment.

It is said that Bernard Shaw, the English writer, is the uncle of Mrs. Maj. Lange.

CHARACTER ANALYSIS

By Dr. James M. Heady. Dr. Heady.

This is the seventh of a series of popular lectures on the subject of character analysis. In order to influence people you can decide from their profile whether they are radicals or conservatives, and act accordingly. In handling the radical remember he wants to be shown. If you want to sell him something show it to him. Let him handle it and show him how it works, but be brief. He is impatient. Think quickly and be impulsive. He is likely to act upon direct suggestion. The conservative wants reasons. Explain things to him. Do not try to rush him to a decision, or he will balk. He wants time to think out things for himself. Use suggestion, but use it carefully. If he is a conservative of the plane type he will respond to both fact and reason. You can hurry him a little if you do it very carefully. He likes to pride himself on being sensible. This concludes the study of the profile and the traits revealed by studying them. It is hoped that you have learned the lessons well and that you will have them in mind, because they will be of continual use in your further study of the subject of character analysis. Tomorrow we begin a study of the temperaments and your knowledge of profiles will be absolutely necessary. For instance, if you had before you two men, both of whom were of the same type, one of the mental temperament, and one was of the emotional temperament, you should be able to use your information to the extent that you would be able to predict the character of the thinking that both of "the thinkers" would evidence.

Christianity is a religion, Says Ozam.
